Amin to expel U.K. envoy

KAMPALA (Reuter). — President Idi Amin yesterday told the British High Commissioner here, Mr. Richard Slater, to leave Uganda as soon as the last British Asian expellee had departed, the Information Ministry said.

General Amin summoned the British envoy to his residence to inform him of his decision. He said Mr. Slater had been responsible for some of the unfounded reports which had appeared in the British press alleging that there was going to be trouble in Uganda.

Mr. Slater had also advised British teachers and doctors here to send their wives and children out of the country, he said. General Amin also accused the High Commissioner of having telephoned British teachers working here during last month's invasion of Uganda from Tanzania, telling them not to go to work.

According to the Information Ministry report of the meeting, Mr. Slater denied President Amin's accusations and said he had merely advised British nationals here to take normal precautions.

In London, a Foreign Embassy spokesman last night described Uganda's move as an "unfriendly act." He added, "We shall make a proper response." But he declined to say what this response would be.

Despite limits on Hanoi bombing

U.S. keeps up aerial blitz on N. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP). — The U.S. maintained its air attacks against North Vietnam yesterday but reportedly laid down new restrictions governing raids in the vicinity of Hanoi following the destruction there of the French diplomatic mission.

U.S. command sources confirmed that the air blitz was continuing despite the international storm whipped up by damage to the French, Algerian and Indian missions during an American bombing raid on Wednesday.

As is customary, yesterday's targets will not be disclosed until today and the U.S. command refused to say whether any were in the Hanoi area.

While conceding that Navy planes from the carrier Midway attacked targets on the fringe of Hanoi on Wednesday, the U.S. command has implied that damage to the foreign missions may have been caused by stray Communist surface-to-air missiles. "The whole matter is being looked at very strongly and the Navy is trying to get pilot interview results," said a U.S. military spokesman.

He reported six Sam missiles were fired at the Navy raiders and the command has said they may have impacted on the ground after missing the American jets.

Initial operational reports from Navy pilots indicate all their bombs were on target on Wednesday, engulfing the Gwa Lam railroad and auto repair facilities with explosions, smoke and fire, U.S. officials reported. The targets were across the Red River, about three kms. from Hanoi city proper. "I don't think the Navy could have been that far off target," said a U.S. command official. "The explanation of the Sams seems a very feasible one."

The Algerian ambassador to North Vietnam, Aderazak Bouhara, however, was quoted as saying he was in the courtyard of his embassy when it was hit by bomb fragments, one of which landed two metres from him.

President Nixon yesterday sent a personal message to French President Georges Pompidou expressing regret at damage to the French mission headquarters and at the injury to French delegate-general Pierre Suñi, who was still in grave condition in Hanoi. Mr. Suñi was reported to have been wounded in the head. He was visited in hospital yesterday by Hanoi's Premier Pham Van Dong.

According to reports in Saigon, a varying buffer zone has now been placed around Hanoi by the U.S. command. It was understood that all potential targets in the immediate Hanoi area will require clearance from the Nixon Administration.

MEIR: WE'LL TRACK DOWN TERRORISTS

By MARK SEGAL

JERUSALEM Post Political Reporter
TEL AVIV. — Prime Minister Golda Meir last night declared that the State of Israel will see to it that every Israeli will be safe and protected in all parts of the world. She said the terrorists would be tracked down "wherever they may be."

The Premier, dressed in black, was addressing the central memorial assembly for the 11 sportsmen murdered in Munich when she dwelt on the individuality of violence, terrorism and hijacking. The assembly was held at Mann Auditorium.

"Whoever looks on passively when Jews are being murdered and Israeli planes hijacked — even though in their hearts they are against it — are dreadfully mistaken if they think the matter ends there. For if an Israeli plane is hijacked, then no plane in the world is safe anywhere, and if Arab assassins are allowed to think that Jewish blood can be spilled with impunity, then the lives of people everywhere are in jeopardy."

Mrs. Meir declared, "Just as we overcame them on the field of battle, just as we tracked them down in Israel, in the West Bank, in Gaza and over the border, so we will find them wherever they may be..."

The Prime Minister said, "But let each one of them (the terrorists) know that the State of Israel and the people of Israel have no intention of letting terrorism prevail. Everyone must continue at his work... We will not rest, we will no longer suffice with heartbreak that has no bounds and tears that have no depths, and we will act so that every Israeli will be safe in all parts of the world and will be properly protected."

As the Prime Minister returned to her seat on the front row amid the bereaved families, a voice cried from the balcony: "The one responsible for the security arrangements at Lod and Munich is (Deputy Premier Yigal) Alon. He has to go." There was a bit of a hubbub, with some voices hushing him.

More than 3,000 persons were present to pay homage to the 11 victims of the Arab assassins. It was a ceremony replete with tears and heart-rending sobs that could be heard across the auditorium especially when the 11 names were read out by the Chief Army Chaplain, Yehoshua Mordochai Piron, during his eulogy at the commencement of the proceedings, and when the cantor chanted el malot rokamim at its conclusion. As his voice tolled out the names, 11 flames shot up through the carpet of white and yellow flowers that dominated the platform.

Just before Mrs. Meir left the hall she passed among the bereaved families expressing her condolences. The only foreign diplomat present was the West German Ambassador, Jesco von Puttkammer.

RODNEY PORTER

GERALD EDELMAN

SKHOLM (Reuter). — Two British and an American were awarded the Nobel Prize for medicine yesterday for a breakthrough in the diagnosis and treatment of infectious diseases.

Rodney Porter of Oxford University and Dr. Gerald Edelman of New York's Rockefeller University, ended a century of rancor about the exact nature of antibodies. Sweden's Karolinska Institute for Medicine said in announcing the joint £41,775 award, antibodies are a group of blood proteins which help protect the body against infection. The institute said the two scientists — had completely filled in the most important gaps in man's knowledge about them.

The two men's investigations sparked off numerous researches which led to practical results in diagnosis and treatment of infectious diseases, the institute said.

J'mem denies U.S. hinted cut on VIPs

Jerusalem Post Diplomatic Correspondent

Officials in Jerusalem denied last night that there have been hints from the U.S. to Israel to cut down on the number of Israeli VIPs visiting America, for security reasons. An afternoon paper reported yesterday from Washington that "American authorities are getting a bit tired of supplying Israeli dignitaries with security guards."

Jerusalem officials noted that Israel was fully satisfied with the security the U.S. authorities give Israeli VIPs.

Terror HQ to Damascus

Jerusalem Post Arab Affairs Reporter

The terrorist movement will move its headquarters from Beirut to Damascus, Cairo's "Al-Ahram" newspaper said yesterday. Quoting "informed Palestinian sources," the paper said the move reflects concern for security following the recent sabotage attacks on terrorist headquarters in Beirut.

The move is likely to be made first by the offices of the Palestine Liberation Organization, the terrorist umbrella organization whose supreme headquarters were once located in Cairo and later in Amman, before being set up in Beirut. The move to Damascus would eventually mean the transfer of the P.L.O. Executive Committee, which in the past year held the bulk of its meetings in the Lebanese capital under the chairmanship of Fatah leader Yasser Arafat.

It was not clear from the "Al-Ahram" report whether the offices of individual terrorist factions would also make the move to Damascus. The transfer is interpreted to be the result of restrictions imposed by the Lebanese authorities on the terrorists.

Aden sees plot to take Perim

BEIRUT (Reuter). — The South Yemen embassy here charged yesterday that North Yemen and Saudi Arabia were plotting to occupy the Red Sea island of Perim, which guards the Bab el Mandeb strait.

It said that North Yemen had massed forces on the small island of Sheikh Said, just north of Perim.

The statement claimed that the occupation of South Yemen's Red Sea islands would be the "initial success" of plans by the U.S. for its "regional security arrangements in the Red Sea."

The South regards Perim as of great strategic importance to the Arab confrontation with Israel. The North had recently occupied the South Yemen island of Kamaran, which is considerably farther north.

Doctors to discuss strike today

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — Kupat Holim doctors' representatives are expected to meet this morning on a request to consider calling off the two-day strike scheduled to start Sunday morning.

An appeal for a meeting with the doctors was made yesterday by Mr. Stefan Grajek, of Kupat Holim's Central Committee. He said if the meeting did take place, he would try to persuade the doctors to call off the strike.

Earlier the doctors said they would call off the strike only if Mr. Asher Yadin stepped down from his post as Director-General of the sick fund and a doctor was appointed to that post.

Meanwhile, Kupat Holim yesterday took steps to meet the strike. It announced that all clinics would be open as usual. If the doctors do not turn up for work, patients may go to a doctor of their choice. They will be reimbursed in accordance with standing procedures for reimbursement when clinics are closed.

Haifa Port clerks hold 12-hour strike

By YA'ACOV FRIEDLER
Jerusalem Post Reporter

LFA. — Nearly 900 Port Management employees held their 12-hour strike yesterday, the objections of the Haifa Port Council. Because of its duration, the strike caused holdups in work but no disruptions.

The evening, the employees' meeting, which in the morning had a carte blanche to continue the fight for incentive pay, decided to step up sanctions "if no developments" occur by noon. They would not say what steps would be.

Trucks fruit loading and the flow of security cargoes, which they had interrupted from the strike, continued. The 500 Dutch pilgrims who arrived in the m.s. Mill also received all services. The dockers, who do not join the strike, unloaded goods from freighters to open areas (the strikers had blocked the sheds), and to trucks, the trucks could not move out of the port until the end of the strike at six in the evening.

Labour Council Secretary Eliezer informed the committee that going against the Council's own "had hampered their own interests" that the management agreed to their demands by day, the date that had been at a meeting of the three parastat Tuesday, he said.

The committee "regretted" the action but stated it had

Ports Authority budgets IL304m. for next year

By DOD. — Work at the port here threatened with serious disruption today and Sunday by the 130 crew members of the Marine Department.

The men, whose main job is maintaining and refueling heavy equipment, say they will not let ships in or out of the port between afternoon and Sunday morning.

They also say they will not be manned by foreign crews and neither service nor supply ships anchored outside the water.

A dispute between the Marine Department and the Port Management has been simmering for some time, but worsened recently by a worker not backed by the Port Council won a bid for the anchorage-section chief. Representatives of the Marine Department, the Port Management and Labour Council met yesterday noon in an effort to stave off sanctions, but without success.

The Labour Council and the Port Management said yesterday it would refuse to bow to any and would take all steps to assure normal operations.

Electric Corp. pays for loose wires

TEL AVIV. — A toddler from Pardes Katz won IL6,585 in damages from the Electric Corporation in the Magistrate's Court this week.

The family of the boy, Zion Zilshvili, aged four, claimed IL10,000 compensation for an injury suffered in July, 1970. He had been playing with other children on the lawn of his home, the suit claimed, when electric wires strung above the lawn fell on him, causing him injuries likely to affect him permanently.

Judge Israel D. Zohar rejected defence claims that the wires were a result of a football hitting them. The company, he said, would be responsible even if this were the case, since it should have taken precautions against such occurrences.

However, added the judge, it was not likely that children of this age could have caused the wire to break by playing ball.

Noting the Electric Corporation is remiss in its precautions about suspending bare electric wires in public places, he awarded Zion damages, plus interest and costs.

THE PATH OF TRUE LOVE

TEL AVIV. — It took more than a traffic accident to stop Yehiel Gilboa and Dalia Shemesh from getting married.

The two were on their way to their wedding at the Gal banquet hall here on Wednesday evening, when the car they were riding in was involved in a three-car collision. The bride and groom were rushed to Ichilov Hospital. The guests waiting at the hall, heard about the accident, and made ready to go home.

The young couple's parents, however, managed to persuade some of the guests to stay and wait for a report from the hospital. The rabbi even volunteered to go to the hospital and perform the ceremony there.

It turned out that the young bride and groom suffered only superficial injuries and towards 11 p.m. they were discharged from hospital. The relieved and patient guests received them with loud applause and the wedding ceremony proceeded. (17m)

Night doctor roster system overhauled

By ERNIE MEYER
Jerusalem Post Reporter

The emergency night roster system for doctors is due for a thorough overhaul after complaints that doctors are either not available at night or refused to answer calls.

The Health Ministry has set up a national coordinating committee to improve and standardize service, the Ministry spokesman announced.

A Ministry commission had found that only a central authority could hope to do away with the haphazard way in which emergency service is supplied in many localities.

The coordinating committee is headed by Mr. Z. Atlas, Assistant Director-General of the Ministry. Represented on it are the Union of Local Authorities, sick funds, the Medical Association and Magen David Adom.

In its recommendations, it has assigned responsibility for emergency services to the 60 Magen David stations in the country. Night call fees will be standardized at IL40-25 for sick fund members, IL40 for non-members, and IL10 for welfare cases. The sick funds and the Welfare Ministry will reimburse members or welfare cases.

Uninsured persons pay the higher fee to cover operating costs over and above the physician's fee, which is otherwise covered by the funds. The service is financed in three equal parts by the Health Ministry, the sick funds and the local authorities.

On weekdays, emergency night service covers the hours 8 p.m.-7 a.m. On weekends it generally operates from Friday, 8 p.m. to Sunday 7 a.m., the Ministry spokesman said.

Israel has the highest doctor-to-population ratio (1:450) in the world, and there is no shortage of doctors interested in serving on the night-duty roster, he added.

Israel, U.S. have lowest battlefield death rates

By MACABEE DEAN
Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — The Israel Medical Corps has run up a record in the treatment of front-line battle casualties comparable to that of the U.S. Air Force, Mr. Vigolik says, and he cites the case of a Tel Aviv doctor on military duty who commutes to Jerusalem for a night's work.

He noted that in the "war of attrition" the number of soldiers who died because of inadequate medical aid was 19 per cent. The Americans in Vietnam had brought it down to 20 per cent from 25 per cent in the Korean War.

The secret of reducing battlefield casualties, Tat-Aluf Eldar said, was to advance expert initial treatment to battalion — if not company — level; to give initial treatment as soon as possible, and not to wait until the soldier can be evacuated, even if the trip took only a short one; and that evacuation be swift, preferably by helicopter, to a fully equipped hospital.

Throughout the world, evacuation time from the battlefield to the operating table was steadily dropping, from 10 hours in World War II and 6.3 hours in Korea to 2.8 hours in Vietnam. No figures were given for Israel.

Eban objects to 'peace conference'

Jerusalem Post Diplomatic Reporter

Foreign Minister Abba Eban spelled out Israel's objections to the "Waldheim plan" in his recent meetings with other foreign ministers in New York. The plan — calling for a Middle East peace conference with Israel, her four Arab neighbours, and the Big Powers all participating under the U.N. Secretary-General's auspices — has recently been espoused by Egypt, whose Foreign Minister Mohammed Zayyat raised it in his own round of meetings at New York.

Dr. Waldheim first outlined the idea in April this year.

Mr. Eban explained Israel's objections to the plan on the following grounds:

- Israel believes that peace negotiations should be conducted between the parties, only;
- Israel objects to the presence of the powers at peace talks and sees in Egypt's espousal of the idea an attempt to put Israel in the uncomfortable situation of facing a majority of hostile Arab states backed by hostile powers across the negotiating table;
- At the present time the fight against terrorism is Israel's major priority. The unsolved terror problem has, in Israel's view, created an atmosphere unsuitable for new peace initiatives at the moment;
- When the atmosphere eventually improves, Israel feels it would be best to try for a partial Canal settlement as a first — and most promising — stage.

Egypt's Mr. Zayyat did not raise the plan in his speech to the General Assembly, and Jerusalem believes he was sounding out opinion rather than making a formal Egyptian proposal.

'Drunken' wife beaten to death

BEERSHEVA. — A man from Yeruham yesterday admitted beating his wife to death with a cane. His lawyer asked the court, in passing sentence, to take into consideration the fact that his client's wife drank heavily.

Moses Shrikler told the District Court he had killed his wife, as charged, on July 27.

Defence counsel, Mr. Haim Kazis, asked the court for permission to call character witnesses. Shrikler is the father of six. He claimed the post mortem had shown the presence of alcohol in the victim's blood.

The court will rule on the request in the latter half of November.

Army giving recruits chance to study

The Army has decided to let some soldiers take one year of pre-academic studies instead of their third year of compulsory military service.

Candidates for the plan will all be selected from members of the Sephardic community. The programme is part of an overall effort to close the educational gap.

Arms smuggling file still with police

By DAVID LANDAU
Jerusalem Post Reporter

The police have not yet submitted the Kahane-Paglin file to the State Attorney's office. Thus, the decision has not yet been taken whether or not to prosecute Rabbi Kahane and his lieutenant in the Jewish Defence League, and Mr. Amihai Paglin, the former IZL leader, for their alleged part in a plan to smuggle arms to an anti-terrorist outfit in Europe.

Radio reports which yesterday said that the State Attorney was about to press charges were termed "premature" by a senior source in Jerusalem. And earlier reports in the press and on the media that the police had completed their investigation and turned over the dossier to the Attorney now also turn out to have been premature — though the Attorney's office expects the dossier shortly.

The State Attorney has not yet decided whether to appeal to the Supreme Court against the Tel Aviv District Court's decision to allow Rabbi Kahane to leave the country.

160,000 signed ransom petition

More than 160,000 people have signed petitions protesting the Soviet ransom tax. This was reported last night by a representative of the women's organizations which are organizing the campaign, together with the Public Council for Soviet Jewry.

The campaign took place in the big cities on Tuesday and Wednesday. In villages and kibbutzim it started yesterday and ends today.

Partial returns show the following figures: Tel Aviv — 100,000; Jerusalem — 20,000; Haifa — 20,000; Petah Tikva — 15,000; Netanya — 7,000.

The organisers hope to collect a quarter of a million signatures. The petition will be sent to the U.N. Secretary-General.

New head of Border Police

NITZAV HAIM LEVI

Nitzav-Mishne Haim Levi yesterday assumed command of the Border Police, succeeding Nitzav Simon Eshel.

Nitzav Eshel had asked to be relieved of the command, and is expected to be named commander of the Israel Police Northern Command following a six-month orientation course.

Yesterday's change-of-command was effected in a brief ceremony at a Border Police base in Judea, at which the new commander was promoted to Nitzav. (17m)

Fingerprints can be taken from walls

TEL AVIV. — A revolutionary method for detecting fingerprints on rough surfaces has been put into use recently by Israel Police.

Before the new method was developed, it was common knowledge that fingerprints can be "lifted" only from smooth surfaces such as glass, metal and furniture. The new method, which employs a magnetized dust, can detect the fingerprints on stone, whitewashed walls, and unfinished wood as well.

Police forces in a number of other countries have expressed an interest in obtaining details of this new method, it has been learned.

Phone worker suspended, accused of moonlighting

The employee is accused of installing telephone extension outlets in a private home against payment. The job was allegedly carried out during regular working hours.

Education Fund builds three schools

Two municipal high schools — one of them religious — were dedicated in Beisan yesterday. They are part of an educational centre named after the late Education Minister Zalman Aranne, and include workshops, a cafeteria and a community centre.

The centre was financed by the Women's Division of the United Jewish Appeal of Greater New York.

In another project of the U.L.A.'s Israel Education Fund, ground was broken for a regional comprehensive high school at Kibbutz Ma'agan Michael on the Carmel coast yesterday. The school is to be named after its donor, Mr. Theodore R. Racoosin.

Hadassah gets go-ahead for new buildings

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Hadassah Hospital has resumed construction of a cancer institute and other facilities which was halted last week by the Municipality because of lack of building permits.

The Municipality gave its go-ahead after a meeting between Dr. Kalman Mann, head of the hospital, and Mayor Teddy Kollek. The municipal spokesman said last night the facilities which can be built are those which already had received approval of the local and district planning commissions but for which permits had not been issued because of technical reasons. No permission was given, he said, for any new building in the direction of Ein Karem.

The Sharet Cancer Institute, which will be the most modern in the country, will contain 60 beds. Also being built are three additional stories to the five-story clinic, 18 apartments for new doctors, and a nurses' residence with 30 rooms.

Government has 'no plan' for military action on P-o-W's

WASHINGTON (AP). — Aides to George McGovern said today the Democratic presidential nominee "has no plan to take military action against Vietnam" if total U.S. withdrawal from Indochina fails to release captured Americans.

The latest statement was issued during a campaign stop at Erie, Pennsylvania, after the AP reported from Washington that McGovern's plan contained an apparent loophole "that could leave him in the same position now occupied by President Nixon: bombing the North until prisoners are released."

Senator J. W. Fulbright gave his "general support" Wednesday to McGovern's plan to end the Vietnam war, but suggested the Democratic presidential nominee was too detailed in his presentation.

The Arkansas Democrat and longtime opponent of the war said many of the specifics, particularly the pledge to end immediately all military shipments to South Vietnam, should be left to negotiations.

But McGovern was under great pressure to give details. Fulbright told a news conference, "and I sympathize with that." However, he went on, there is no way any government can make total commitments in advance since it can't be sure of the other side's response.

Fulbright was joined by two other leading Democratic critics of President Nixon's Vietnam policies: Senators Frank Church of Idaho and Alan Cranston of California.

D.C. prison probe ordered: inmates release hostages

WASHINGTON. — Inmates at the District of Columbia jail yesterday released nine hostages after a federal judge ordered immediate hearings on their grievances.

The hostages, who included District of Columbia Corrections Director Kenneth Hardy, were in good condition after their ordeal which began when the inmates grabbed them in a protest against prison conditions. Among their complaints were that some prisoners waited as long as 16 months in prison to come to trial and that the prison is infested with cockroaches and is out-of-date.

The trouble broke out Wednesday when the prisoners, armed with a revolver and possibly a rifle overpowered guards at the jailhouse three miles from the White House, took over a cellblock, broke windows and started a series of fires.

Negotiators led by black Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm helped ease the situation as the jail them in a protest against prison conditions. Among their complaints were that some prisoners waited as long as 16 months in prison to come to trial and that the prison

Powell charges Tories broke pledges on coloured immigration

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI). — Conservative Party rebel Enoch Powell yesterday threw the party's convention into uproar with a charge that the government has ignored its pledges to limit coloured immigration into Britain.

He charged the government "has broken in a way that can only be described as cynical" pledges to help coloured immigrants who want to return home to do so.

"The number of electors for whom this is a matter of the greatest anxiety is growing rapidly," Powell declared. "They will not forgive a party which studiously averts its gaze nor a government which ignores its pledges."

Powell, a former Conservative government minister, broke with Prime Minister Edward Heath some years ago over the race and immigration issue.

He has asserted repeatedly, and he reiterated the claim yesterday, that Britain's coloured immigrant population will reach three to four million in the 1980s and five million by the end of the century.

The debate on the government's decision to give refuge to Asians expelled from Uganda was the stormiest since the convention opened on Wednesday. Powell's supporters gave him a noisy ovation. His speech was interrupted constantly by cheers and boos.

Earlier the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Anthony Barber, delivered a tough, uncompromising warning that the government will not yield to militants who are seeking to use their industrial power to destroy British society.

Conservative Party Chairman Lord Carrington also charged on Wednesday that "a small but active minority" is seeking to "smash society by promoting industrial unrest and anarchy."

Neither Barber nor Carrington identified the militant minority more closely. But they appeared to be referring to a small hard core of extreme left-wing activists who emerged during recent coal miners' and longshoremen's strikes.

British Prime Minister Edward Heath was in good voice on Wednesday when he sang in the religious service which opened the Conservative Party Conference in Blackpool. (AP radiophoto)

Barber stressed the government's determination to beat inflation.

"But the issue is not just the rate of inflation," he said. "What is at stake is much greater than that. It is our whole system of parliamentary democracy, our whole free democratic way of life."

"There are those — not many, not the responsible union leaders but powerful ones nevertheless in this country and other countries — who are quite prepared, indeed determined, to use the weapon of industrial strength, to use the weapon of inflation in an attempt to degrade and defeat the elected government — Conservative or Labour — in order to smash the system and enable themselves to impose their own sort of society," he said.

"There can be no question of the government giving way to the type of pressure, in this we know we have the country behind us, that he said."

Europe fears unemployment more than inflation

PARIS (UPI). — An all-European campaign against inflation stillborn because of political-economic pressures on the Common Market sources today.

Common Market officials in the West German Government are pushing hard for an end to an attack on inflation, running now at an average annual rate of six per cent within Common Market nations.

Common Market Vice-President Raymond Barre told the European Parliament Wednesday that the rate will be seven per cent next year unless something is done. But the sources said a meeting this week of experts from the nine nations of the enlarged market showed that many nations oppose strong measures on grounds that they would limit economic growth and cause unemployment.

Inflation is a major issue in the West German election campaign. (See Inflation — Page 12). The Bonn Government, therefore, has called for Common Market measures limiting the annual growth in the Continent's money supply to 10 per cent — half the current rate.

The sources said this idea was opposed by Italy, Britain, Denmark and Ireland, because it would put severe limits on expansionist policies considered necessary to cut unemployment and boost output. Even the Common Market itself has warned Italy against deflationary policies.

Four-letter words make the Oxford Dictionary

LONDON (UPI). — A dictionary often quoted as the authority on the Queen's English has included for the first time Anglo-Saxon four-letter words, American slang and a quote by her husband on fannies and fingery.

It all posed a problem for the Oxford English Dictionary's publicist, Elizabeth Knight, who could not bring herself to utter one of the more explicit expletives included in the first volume of a supplement to the dictionary published yesterday.

"Among the new words appear ancient words once considered too gross and vulgar to be given countenance in the decent environment of a dictionary," said an advance press release on the 1,856-page volume (A to G).

Asked what some of the words were (the press release didn't say), Miss Knight carefully spelled one out: "F..."

"You do hesitate to say it," she said.

She said the dictionary defines the word as a "transitive verb: to copulate" and traces its earliest recorded written use to a 16th century Scottish poet named Dunbar who included a variation of the expletive in his prose.

The release said the word is among a "wide range of other colloquial and coarse expressions referring to sexual and excretory functions" in the supplement.

Miss Knight said the supplement's main purpose was to update the Oxford Dictionary, first published in 1884 and widely quoted in British law courts as the authority on the language. But she said it was not necessarily to sanction the use of four-letter words.

For the drug culture, the first $37.50 volume includes such words as "grass: marijuana." It works up a thirst with "Coca Cola," "bender," and "booze," salutes a bygone age of "bebop" and "boogie-woogie," recalls the "doughboy" of World War I fame, and marvels at it all with "gee whizz."

To help define "finger," the volume records for posterity this quote from Prince Philip, Queen Elizabeth's husband, who was urging fellow Britons to greater economic endeavor: "It is about time we pulled our fingers out."

ADMITS MAKING BLUNDERS Brandt opens campaign

DORTMUND, West Germany (Reuters). — Chancellor Willy Brandt opened his campaign for re-election here yesterday, saying the issue before the voters next month was "peace or the imperilment of peace."

The 58-year-old Social Democrat, forced into snap nationwide elections by loss of his parliamentary majority, admitted at a special election congress in this thriving Ruhr industrial city that there had been "disappointments and blunders" during his government's three years in office.

"But the next time things must and will be done better," he promised the 400 delegates in the mammoth Westfalen Stadium.

More than 40 million voters are due to cast their ballots on November 19. Mr. Brandt, whose Social Democratic Party is billing him as "the chancellor you can trust," said on polling day the choice will be between "the continuation of a consistent policy of peace, security and reforms — or its imperilment."

"The political forces of yesterday must be prevented from blocking this policy for years to come," he declared, referring to the Christian Democratic Party, led by his rival for the chancellorship, Dr. Rainer Barzel.

Earlier Mr. Brandt's right-hand man in the election campaign, Finance and Economics Minister Helmut Schmidt, told the party that it was facing "a tough and bitter fight" to retain power.

The Social Democrats had learned from the pre-Hitler democracy of the 1920s, he said, that once in power they must not yield it to politicians of the right and centre parties.

"We will not let power pass out of our hands a second time," he asserted, calling on Social Democrats to use all their strength, energy and tactical means to make sure that when the polls closed it would not be a "photo finish" as election analysts are predicting.

The huge circular stadium, only partly filled by the delegates and 1,000 journalists was guarded by large numbers of uniformed and plainclothes police. Tight security measures are being observed throughout the five-week long campaign for fear of attacks on politicians by radical terrorist organizations.

Political observers expect Brandt might conclude a treaty with East Germany before polling day, thus crowning his policy of reconciliation with the Soviet Union and the Communist East Bloc.

While the Chancellor was defending his "repealable" eastern policy against opposition charges that he has abandoned the goal of German unity, the latest round of negotiations between East and West Germans continued in Bonn.

Dr. Barzel and other opposition leaders warned Chancellor Brandt at their election congress in Westphalen which ended on Wednesday that he had to reaffirm a mandate for making any new foreign commitments which might prejudice a future government.

3 die in mid-air Cairo collision

CAIRO (Reuters). — Three persons were killed when two Egyptian trainer planes collided in mid-air over a residential area on the outskirts of Cairo, the Middle East News Agency reported yesterday.

The wreckage of the two planes, of the Gombouria type, fell over the roof of a villa and in the villa grounds but no one was hurt on the ground.

One plane was piloted by a cadet, while the second was carrying a cadet and an instructor.

Libya bars to chop off heads of thieves

The death penalty was decreed for who waylay, assault people on roads if the suits in death, the agency said.

World Series starts tomorrow REDS WIN NAT'L LEAGUE RACE

THE Cincinnati Reds rallied to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 on Wednesday and win the National League Pennant. Johnny Bench tied the game with a home run in the ninth inning, then George Foster scored the winning run on a two-out wild pitch by Bob Moose.

The victory gave the Reds a 3-2 edge in the best-of-five National League playoffs and earned them a berth in the World Series, which starts tomorrow. The Reds will play the winner of the American League playoff between Oakland and Detroit, whose deciding game was due to be played last night.

Jim Northrup's 10th inning single capped a Detroit comeback Wednesday night that carried the Tigers to a 4-3 victory over the Oakland A's and tied baseball's American League playoffs at two games apiece.

Northrup's dramatic hit set off a wild demonstration reminiscent of the scene last week when the Tigers won the East Division pennant. Fans streamed onto the field as the Tigers mobbed their veteran outfielder who drilled the winning hit over right fielder Masty Alou's head to clinch the rally.

Detroit had fallen behind 3-1 and the A's, who won the first two games in this best-of-five series, were just three outs away from a World Series berth. They got none of those outs.

Dick McAuliffe opened Detroit's last chance with a single to right and Kaline followed with a single to left, sending McAuliffe to second.

Joe Horlen came in to relieve Bobby Locker, who had started the inning on the mound for the A's. He wild-pitched the runners along and pinch hitter Gates Brown drew a walk, loading the bases.

With the crowd of 37,615 roaring on every pitch, Bill Freehan rounded to third baseman Sal Bando was ready to concede he ran to try for the double play. He threw to second. Gene Tenen, ordinarily a catcher but playing the field in manager Dick Williams' rotating procession of second basemen and shortstops, dropped the ball and everybody was safe. Then Northrup came through with his game-winning hit.

BOXING

BRITAIN'S Joe Bugner, recovering from a series of ring disasters last year, regained the European Heavyweight Boxing Title when he knocked out defending champion Jurgen Blin of West Germany in the eighth round in London on Tuesday.

Bugner, the 22-year-old Hungarian-born giant, produced the best display of his seasaw career and won the first seven rounds before ending the fight in explosive fashion after one minute ten seconds of the eighth round. The 29-year-old Blin, European Champion for less than five months, was felled by a right to the jaw. With blood trickling from his left ear and his face out and bruised, Blin staggered to his feet but was unable to beat the count and Italian referee Marcello Bertini called it a knockout.

TENNIS

PERSISTENT rain and unseasonably cold weather have not dampened enthusiasm in the Rumanian capital for the Davis Cup Final between the United States and Rumania, which starts today.

Tickets have sold fast as the Rumanians prepared to crowd the 6,000-seat Progressul Stadium to cheer their team and above all their national sports hero, Ilie Nastase. Nastase is the reigning Forest Hills Champion and was runner-up at Wimbledon this year to Stan Smith, number one in the American team.

The Rumanians have no team-selection problems. Nastase, 28, and veteran teammate Ion Tiriac will team up once again for the host country.

The Americans have one problem — their second man in the singles. Number one is big Stan Smith, who will play both singles and doubles, teaming with Erik Van Dillen. For the second singles berth, team captain Dennis Ralston will have to decide between Tom Gorman and Harold Solomon.

RADIO CITY CLOSES DOWN

NEW YORK (AP). — Radio City Music Hall announced it was suspending operations Wednesday night but later the manager said America's largest movie palace would reopen eventually.

"Our basic problem is an economic one — rising costs," said James F. Gould after talking with a distressed Mayor John V. Lindsay. "We have to recoup and make major economies."

"Of course, we hope to reopen, but it has to be in a situation that's viable economically. "Meanwhile, things are very emotional."

'SEX IS GOOD FOR ATHLETES'

LONDON (Reuter). — A British Olympic team medical adviser asserted this week that sexual activity can be of positive benefit to athletes and sportsmen even on the eve of their event.

He cited the cases of an Olympic middle-distance runner who he said broke a world track record just an hour after making love, and a well-known British miler who clocked under four minutes some 90 minutes after sex. The medical adviser, Dr. Craig Sharp, did not name the athletes.

"I have been thinking about this for a long time," Dr. Sharp wrote in the monthly magazine, "The Squash Player," "mainly because of the bad advice that people have been getting."

"Some squash players have indeed upset their personal lives on non-physiological advice given either for puritanical reasons or through old wives' tales."

But Dr. Sharp's views on this age-old controversy were promptly challenged by another Olympic official, Dr. Louis Blomstein, chief medical officer of the British Amateur Boxing Association.

"Sexual intercourse uses up adrenaline in the blood and adversely affects a sportsman's speed, energy and clarity of thought if he takes part in an important game or event within 24 hours," Dr. Blomstein stated.

"We have done experiments with lots of sportsmen. These proved their ability was impaired when they took part in physical activity soon after having sex."

Dr. Sharp, 37, a bachelor who heads the Physical Education Department at Birmingham University, wrote, however: "I can find no factual evidence either in scientific literature or in discussions with many athletes and sportsmen of world class at a wide variety of sports, that sexual activity in moderation up to and including the night before a match has any detrimental effect on the sport in question."

An important proviso was that the sexual activity did not encroach on the athlete's normal sleeping time. "About half an hour of sexual activity, if appropriate, would maximize the onset, quantity and quality of the sleep," he said.

Dr. Sharp wrote the article while he was with the British Olympic team at St. Moritz, Switzerland, where they trained for three weeks before the Munich Olympics. He was medical adviser to the sprint canoe team.

He said he did not think the British athletes were any fitter for their forced abstinence from sex.

If Britain's star middle-distance runner, David Bedford, had been allowed to have his girl-friend there, he might well have weathered the pressures that drove him to return to England before the training period ended, Dr. Sharp said.

He added: "Married men do face problems... it would have been a good idea for wives to have accompanied their husbands to the Olympic Games. The sex would only have been about 10 per cent, 90 per cent would be sheer morale."

LIVELY CELLIST

Twentieth century music opened and concluded the Broadcasting Authority Orchestra's concert, conducted by Mendi Rodan, with works by two composers who are already regarded today as classics of modern music — Alban Berg and Bela Bartok. In the concert's centre, on the other hand, were works from the more conservative repertoire of classical and romantic music — Symphony No. 27 by Mozart and Variations on a Roccoco Theme by Tchaikovsky.

Bartok in his Dance Suite, based on folkloric elements, still sounds rather extrovert and robust with its unsophisticated melodies and stirring rhythms. Berg in his Lyric Suite, at almost the same age, sounds by comparison like an introvert and fragile Romantic who does not clamour for attention but a priori addresses himself only to those who feel inclined to lend a willing ear to his subtleties. The cellist Uzi Wiesel brought to the Variations on a Roccoco Theme by Tchaikovsky, besides his discerning taste and full, warm tone, also a lively temperament that imparted much vitality to the work. Wiesel's playing, thanks to this welcome innovation, now sounds richer and more flexible and eventful than his previous tendency towards understatement and restraint. If this is not a passing mood but a new phase of his artistic development, this gifted cellist may very likely still have new musical experiences in store for his listeners. UZY EPPSTEIN

25th ANNIVERSARY: Haifa celebrations will stress history of State

By YA'ACOV ABDON, Jerusalem Post Reporter

HAIFA. — Only about six per cent of the Jewish population in Israel today experienced the historic events surrounding the establishment of the state. This leaves over two million people "who knew not Joseph" — young people and immigrants from whom the State of Israel was an accomplished fact when they arrived. We therefore regard it as an educational task to tell the people what happened," said Mr. Shmuel Blalik, director of the Haifa Municipality cultural Department, when he told us press this week about the City's plans for Israel's 25th Anniversary celebrations.

"We'll do it graphically, in colours, sound, in print, and by every other useful medium," Mr. Blalik promised.

"Instead of arranging celebrations and exhibitions at a central place in town where not all will see them, we'll decentralize the events and take them 'on the road' to various parts of the city, showing each display for a fortnight to three weeks. We'll illuminate and decorate each quarter in succession while the festivities are taking place. That will assure us a maximum number of audiences," Mr. Blalik explained.

One of the projects is to call for volunteers to teach Hebrew in order to reduce Hebrew illiteracy to the minimum.

A major event for the City will be the opening, after years of delay, of the Daroff Auditorium at the Rothschild Centre next August. On the national plans Jewish-Arab co-existence and the respect for the civil rights of the minorities will be stressed. Progress in agriculture will be shown as part of the first fruit festival, and a Nahal-Gadna parade will be held (on May 20).

The dominant international events will be a flower show and a folklore festival in July (the last three days of it will be in Haifa).

AMERICAN ULPAN OPENS NEW FALL HEBREW PROGRAM

NEW CLASSES BEGIN IN OCTOBER, NOVEMBER, DECEMBER

The American Ulpán, Israel's largest language school, teaches English to over 2,000 adult Israelis and Hebrew to 300 native French, Russian, Spanish and English speakers (with complete translations from Hebrew for each). The American Ulpán charges about ten times more in tuition (IL2.70 vs. 27 ag.) per lesson than the Jewish Agency ulpán — and competes successfully! In the following interview Robert Goldfarb, Director of the American Ulpán, explains why:

I've long regarded the Hebrew ulpán in this country as ineffective and inefficient. I've been to five ulpáns in this country seven times and failed every time. I've seen American professors of classical Hebrew fail to learn modern Hebrew.

New Material and New Teaching Method

I came to Israel in 1962 from California not knowing even the Hebrew alphabet. At the Beit Galim Ulpán in Haifa we were asked to learn the printed alphabet one day, the handwritten alphabet the next day and I was out in a week. Next came Kibbutz Hazorea's work-study Ulpán for five months where I learned some 200 words (you need a minimum of 6,000 words to be fluent in a language). I then moved to Jerusalem and attended the Municipality Ulpán, then the Hebrew University Ulpán, then Ulpán Etalon — three times! Altogether I spent 15 months in Ulpán and learned about 2,000 words.

We offer a sixteen-month course from ABC to university-level fluency. Classes meet twice weekly from 9.00 a.m.-12.30 or from 3.40-7.00 and from 7.10-10.30 p.m. Classes are in progress at seven levels.

We're using the new books and translations prepared by David Blivin, the Director of the American Institute of Holy Land Studies Hebrew Ulpán on Mt. Zion and his all-Sabra staff.

So what's new and miraculous about this method?

First, beginners start with audio-visual material which teaches the sound structure of Hebrew and introduces one letter of the Hebrew alphabet at a time. Monolingual people find it almost impossible to learn by ear — but they can learn with reinforcement from the printed page. Other ulpáns use what's called the "direct method," explaining each new word verbally with actions, pantomime and words previously learned. But educated people require precise definitions! They can guess six or eight possible synonyms for each abstract verb or noun being introduced. Mr. Blivin provides instant translation into English, French, Spanish and Russian. There's no guesswork.

morning with 300 words to learn before class!

The "Substantive" Method At the advanced level (2,200 words) the student stops memorizing basic situational conversations and begins the first really new approach to language learning. We call it the "substantive" method. Here the student memorizes basic sentences which both introduce new sentence structures and vocabulary items and also summarize a university-level subject on Israel. These subjects include units on Geography, American Ulpán Hebrew teachers in Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, Haifa and Beerseba.

The "Encouraging" Method

The "direct method" encourages the student to speak freely at the beginning and intermediate levels — so one person at a time speaks and 20 listen — mostly to poor Hebrew which must be re-learned later. In our method at the intermediate level the student memorizes a normal situational Hebrew conversation for each unit, is tested on it in both speech and writing, then spends his classroom time doing exercises and drills in fluent — though controlled — Hebrew. They don't "baby talk." Our students are not permitted to fall behind. They acquire 40-60 new words per unit and would be doomed to failure if not tested regularly and if 200 or 300 unknown words were allowed to accumulate. Try waking up some

Health Services, Consumer Education and Political Institutions, to name a few.

Our advanced level using "substantive" units brings the student up to 6,000 words where he is able to understand a university lecture — and teach in Hebrew. Our tuition is higher than most government ulpáns, but far cheaper in the long run from the standpoint of time and money.

Reception hours are from 4.30 to 7.30 p.m. every day (except in Beerseba where we do not receive on Tuesdays). In Jerusalem we are at 1 Rehov Shalom at Zion Square (over Stelmatsky's book store); in Tel Aviv at 158 Rehov Dizengoff; in Haifa at 13 Rehov Blalik, and in Beerseba in the Shavit Theatre building in the centre of town. Nitzan hails civil servants' pact as 'cheapest labour contract'

By DAVID KRIVINE
Jerusalem Post Economic Reporter

The collective agreement concluded with the Civil Servants Union and Clerical Workers Union for employees in the public service will add ten per cent to the wage benefits secured under the general framework agreement — five per cent this year and five per cent next.

"It is the 'cheapest' labour contract signed in the economy during the present round of wage negotiations," Ya'acov Nitzan, the Civil Service Commissioner, told The Jerusalem Post in an exclusive interview this week.

Demands for specific adjustments — where special work conditions justify a deviation from the general collective agreement — must be settled within two months, and it is agreed in the contract that such demands shall not be the occasion for strikes or sanctions. Any differences will be settled by arbitration.

YA'ACOV NITZAN

Concerning the professionals, who negotiate with the Civil Service Commission separately, Mr. Nitzan said he teachers' claim for excessive benefits (which would more than double their wage level) is being referred to the Ministerial Wage Committee next Monday.

The engineers demand a reformed wage scale. "We cannot agree to have a system which would drive us back to the complications which existed before the unified wage scale was introduced in 1964.

"We have told the engineers that we can negotiate within the framework of official wage policy," he added. It is understood that the collective agreement with the non-professional public servants, which embraces 150,000 employees, is likely to be submitted as a precedent to the professionals too.

One of the benefits achieved in the general wage agreement for public servants (the civil service, national institutions, local government, Histadrut employees including monthly IL2-2.50 per year of service to IL4-11.

Maximum for travel expenses to and from work is lifted from IL32 a month to IL55, and employees' own contribution to this expense is lowered from IL8 to IL4. Senior officials will get overtime pay like their juniors, but only for clocked-in hours at the office. The maximum will be 25 hours a month, over and above the first 10 hours, for which no overtime pay is granted.

The allowance comes to about IL10 an hour for the grades concerned, and applies also to Directors-General, who will have to clock in like everybody else if they want overtime pay. But officials in this grade (the highest — Grade 20) will get an extra IL125 a month after four years in the job. This was the Commission's concession in answer to the unions' bid for an extra grade (Grade 21). "The alternative would have meant a general cessation of grades and salaries," he explained.

Employees working permanently on an afternoon shift, such as cleaning workers, will get an extra 10 per cent. A working mother with two children aged 10 or less will work a maximum seven hours a day. People working a "split day" (that is, with a three-hour midday break) will get 9-10 per cent more pay — in exchange for the right of the Commission to decide on its own who shall work those hours.

Up to now, many officials refused to work a split day, including employees of the Immigrant Absorption Ministry. "It is absurd that immigrants cannot get attention in the afternoon, after the end of their working day. We intend to change that," Mr. Nitzan promised.

Professional literature will be authorized for the top 10 grades instead of six, which means that another 6,500 people get an extra IL100 a year on the average.

The unions for their part agreed to the creation of a joint committee for improving services to the public, and the Commission agreed to a joint committee for extending the system of standardization. The principle of standardization is accepted, that when one group works under the same conditions as another, it is entitled to the same benefits.

Mr. Nitzan concluded: "During the two-year period of the contract until March 1974, the unions undertake to submit no new demands. No strikes or sanctions are permitted before that date.

Japanese to make first fighter planes since war

TOKYO (AP). — Under its latest defence programme, Japan will be producing its first fighter planes since World War II.

The National Defence Council, which approved the country's fourth five-year defence plan this week, decided to produce domestically 137 fighters — 68 F-2 fighter aircraft and 69 F-1 fighter aircraft.

Of the 211 aircraft to be allocated to the air defence force, the defence Agency said, only 14 RP-4E reconnoissance planes will be purchased from abroad.

The Agency said Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, the prime contractor, will produce the fighters in cooperation with other Japanese firms will pro-

Mart decision on Mediterranean welcomed here

Jerusalem Post Diplomatic Correspondent

Jerusalem sources this week welcomed the decision of the Common Market Council of Ministers on Monday to formulate a global trade agreement between the Market and the countries of the Mediterranean Basin. These countries — which include Israel, Egypt and Lebanon — will have their relationships with the Market thrown out of gear when it is enlarged to embrace Britain, Ireland and Denmark.

The sources cautioned, however, that the planned global agreement, in all probability, will not be ready in time for January 1, 1973 — the date the three formally join the Six, and Israel is anxious, therefore, that some interim arrangement be worked out to ease the problems of her exporters.

A number of members of the Council of Ministers are known to have advocated the need for such an interim arrangement at the council meeting.

As far as Israel knows, at present the Middle East will not figure prominently — if at all — on the agenda of the Nine due to open in Paris on October 19. Monetary and organizational problems are expected to top the list of priorities for discussion.

The sources in Jerusalem thought the global agreement might take the form of free trade in industrial goods and lower tariffs on a few agricultural products. But nearly half of Israel's exports to the Market are agricultural products — mainly citrus fruits and citrus extracts. Israel is hoping to persuade the Market to recognize its citrus juices as "industrial" products. The final decision is due to be taken at a meeting of the Council of Ministers in November.

Police deny covering up Kinneret thefts

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TIBERIAS. — The Police spokesman here strongly denied charges by Knesset Member Yosef Tamir, the ecology watchdog, that someone in the Tiberias police is covering up the theft of pebbles from the shores of the Lake. "The pebbles are in demand for decorative purposes, and removing them from the shores of the Lake is prohibited.

The deputy commander of the Police sub-district of Safed-Kinneret, Rav-Pakad Levi Shaul, said yesterday that in the past 18 months, eleven cases of alleged theft had been investigated in the area. In eight of them, the suspects had pleaded not guilty, and the Magistrate had fixed November 19 for the hearings. Two of the three other cases had been returned by the public prosecution for further investigation. They had already been completed and submitted to the Court, and the third would follow soon.

"After the thefts of pebbles had gone on for years, the Police said they could not prosecute unless someone filed a complaint. Nature Protection Society members caught a number of thieves red-handed 18 months ago, and complained to the police, giving full details. Since no action had apparently been taken by the police, Knesset Member Tamir complained to the Police Minister last month."

Balance of payments still improving

By MOSHE ATEB
Jerusalem Post Economic Editor

STATISTICS on Israel's foreign payments in the second quarter of 1972 show that the balance continued to move favourably though at a slower pace. In the first quarter of 1972 Israel's foreign current account balance soared $289m. In the second quarter the rise was $128m.

The salient points of the development are summed up in the following table, which shows the changes which took place in the first and in the second quarter of 1972 as compared with the corresponding period a year ago.

Changes compared with a year ago		first quarter	second quarter merchandise imports		-$51m.	+$38m.
merchandise exports		+$46m.	+$42m.
defence procurements		-$110m.	+$8m.
tourism		+$13m.	+$20m.
interest, dividends, etc.		-$24m.	+$24m.
private transfers		+$36m.	+$19m.
national transfers		+$50m.	+$40m.
investments		+$13m.	+$26m.
long term loans		-$17m.	-$35m.
short-term loans private		-$11m.	+$36m.
accounts of the central bank		+$289	+$129m.

Inflow of foreign capital — private transfers, restitutions, transfers of national funds, private investments (portfolio and direct ones) — continued to increase, though at a reduced pace. Due to this accumulation of capital funds, borrowing abroad has been slowed though our foreign debt is still increasing. Rather surprisingly, it turns out that short term borrowing abroad — both private (shown above) and governmental — increased considerably, in contrast to official pre-tensions.

TEL AVIV STOCKS

DOWNTREND ON MARKET HALTED

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — The downturn on the Stock Market of the past two days was halted in yesterday's opening and turned into a rising market towards its close. The developments can be attributed to investors' nervousness, technical reaction or a special situation, but one fact is clear; the market remains firm, due to the liquidity of the public.

Analysts believe that the erratic up and down may prevail for some time until the market finds a new base. The fact that some shares rose too quickly calls for some backing and filling, and the wise investor would do well by not paying too much attention to it.

Yesterday's turnover was IL4.2m., of which two-thirds was traded in the variables. The general index of share prices rose by 0.68 per cent, to 281.39 points — down seven points during the week.

Rumours that Cial will take over Ta'al, caused the former to rise 1 1/2 points to 202, with 375,000 shares traded, and the latter 23 points to 343, with 32,800 shares traded.

Israel British rose eight more points to 336 (34,000). Cold Storage was up 12 points to 374 (26,800), Lighter 17 points to 212 (18,500), and Central Trade eight points to 275 (25,500).

The rest of the market rose between one and four points. The real estate section, which was depressed recently, led the field. In some time until the market finds a new base. The fact that some shares rose too quickly calls for some backing and filling, and the wise investor would do well by not paying too much attention to it.

DECLINE CONTINUES

NEW YORK (AP). — The stock market continued its decline yesterday as investors fretted about a stalemate in the Vietnam peace talks and the possibility of tight money.

Hopes for a Vietnam settlement waned after the regular session of the Paris talks ended inconclusively.

Polaroid fell after another camera manufacturer, Berkey Photo, Inc., announced it had developed an instant-film model to compete with the Polaroid line.

Donkeys slaughtered, police come too late

TEL AVIV. — An Arab resident of Jaffa was arrested for questioning after police came across him slaughtering donkeys in a Holon field on Monday. Police suspect the meat was meant for sausages.

The man, who was not identified, was spotted by Holon policemen killing the animals in a field in Tel Ghorim near Holon on Monday afternoon. The Health Ministry was alerted and the man was taken in for questioning.

Police found the remains of 16 slaughtered donkeys at the scene.

THE VIETNAM TALKS

DR. Kissinger is back in Washington after five days of secret talks in Paris with North Vietnamese representatives. It is now apparent that the bombing of Hanoi, causing serious damage to a number of diplomatic missions in the North Vietnamese capital, created more of an impact in the West than in Hanoi.

He proved to be right, and thus taught the world another lesson in international relations in the 1970s. Less than a month before the elections, the President appears to be certain of his position at home.

Chronically divided though they are, Arab leaders agreed on one basic issue this week: "the Arab nation is confused and lost." The same conclusion was reached by rival leaders at opposite ends of the spectrum in the Arab world - Libya's head of state, Colonel Mu'ammer Gaddafi, and Jordan's King Hussein.

Second was the failure of the 18-nation Arab League to establish a clear Middle East policy and show that the Arab states were setting within a joint framework. Third, the Arabs realized that their traditional plan to revive their conflict with Israel at the U.N. General Assembly was badly upstaged by the issue of terrorism involving the Arab states themselves.

toward a Middle East settlement. Aside from his anti-Israel rhetoric, Zayyat also indicated that Cairo was still hoping for some joint U.N. action on the Middle East, especially from the Big Five nations. He emphasized that Cairo was still holding to GUNBAR Jarring's February, 1971, memorandum, and to his mandate under Resolution 242.

accepted by the Arab crowds whether they were right or wrong. Because of the confidence Nasser enjoyed, the average Arab, who traditionally tends to be dependent, felt that he need not worry about politics and could leave decisions to the late Egyptian leader, who possessed both charisma and power.
